

Warshawski, V.I. Private investigator, Chicago

Eminent Deaths:

Marcus Whitby, freelance and reporter for T-Square magazine

Kylie Ballentine, born 1911, dancer & choreographer, Federal Negro Theatre project, American & African dance; teacher at Univ of Chicago; member Com-Thought)

Armand Pelletier, 1899-1977, writer and activist, Committee of Social Thought and Justice (Com-Thought), mid 20th century

Players:

Julius Arnoff, principal, Lebold Arnolds legal firm, offices in Oakbrook and Chicago, which handled sale of Larchmont Hall

Calvin Bayard, 90s, Bayard Publishing, First Amendment advocate, successfully unintimidated by Illinois congressman's House Un-American Activities Committee (HUAC) in 1950s, hero of VI's youth

Catherine Bayard, 16, granddaughter, law-breaker

Renee Genier Bayard, late 60s-early 70s, CEO, Bayard Publishing, wife of Calvin

Edwards Genier Bayard, son of Renee and Calvin

Blodel, officer, Elk Horn Lake police

Amy Blount, PhD economic history, VI's former assistant, Harriet Whitby's friend

Caroline, Darraugh's personal assistant

Freeman Carter, VI's lawyer

Mr. Contreras, VI's downstairs neighbour

Aretha Cummings, Marcus Whitby's research assistant

Luke Edwards, VI's car mechanic

Elsbetta, maid, Bayard house in town

Terry Finchley, Detective, Chicago First District Violent Crimes Unit

Darraugh Graham, Continental United Industries, VI's longtime client

Elise Graham, Darraugh's wife

Geraldine Graham, 91, née Drummond, Darraugh's mother, widow of MacKenzie

Jerry Hastings, Chief Medical Examiner, DuPage County

Derek Hatfield, agent, FBI

Simon Hendricks, editor, T-square magazine, Llewellyn Publishing

Lotty Herschel, VI's friend, surgeon, Beth Israel hospital

Susan Horseley, British journalist, travelling with Morrell

Theresa Jakes, Calvin Bayard's attendant

Vanna Landau, Assistant State's Attorney

Ruth Lantner, housekeeper, Bayard town house

Lisa, Geraldine Graham's attendant

Augustus Llewellyn, elderly, owner, Llewellyn Publishing, has policy against staff talking with anyone at Bayard Publishing

Max Loewenthal, Executive Director, Beth Israel hospital

Father Lou, priest, St Remigio's Catholic church

Bobby Mallory, Captain, Chicago Police Terrorism Task Force

Morrell, reporter for Margent magazine, in Afghanistan

Mary Louise Neely, former assistant for VI

Judith Ohana, lawyer, First Freedoms Forum at Vina Fields Academy

Stephanie Protheroe, Deputy, DuPage County Sheriff's office

Gideon Reed, archivist, Vivian Harsh collection of black writers and artists,
Chicago Public Library

Tessa Reynolds, sculptor, VI's lease partner (co-tenant)

Domingo Rivas, Olin Taverner's attendant

Murray Ryerson, reporter, Herald-Star

Benjamin Sadawi, 17, Egyptian, dishwasher at Vina Fields Academy, supposed terrorist

Rick Salvi, Sheriff, DuPage County

Schoor, Lieutenant, DuPage County Sheriff's office

Don Strzepek, editor, Margent magazine, Morrell's boss

Haile Talbot, senior executive, Bayard Publishing

Olin Taverner, elderly, senior counsel to Walker Bushell (congressman who was creator of HUAC)

Jason Tompkin, reporter, Llewellyn Publishing

Mrs Laura van der Cleef, Geraldine & MacKenzie Graham's daughter

Bryant Vishnikov, Deputy Chief Medical Examiner, Cook County

Christie Weddington, VI's answering service receptionist

Harriet Whitby, Marcus's sister

Mr & Mrs Whitby, Marcus's parents

Larry Yosano, junior lawyer, Lebold Arnolds legal firm

Jack Zeelander, Assistant State's Attorney for Northern District